

1 SIEMENS GIGASET

Siemens Home and Office Communication Devices have launched two new phones to meet everyday calling needs with comfort and ease. The Gigaset AL180 and the Gigaset AL185 (right) come with an integrated answering machine and are elegant and easy to use. Every button touch can be felt thanks to the high-quality polydome keypad with optimised pressure points. The phones boast brilliant sound quality and talk time of up to 25 hours. Other features include illuminated display and a fully integrated phonebook with space for up to 40 entries. Voice transmission is crystal clear and free of interference and disruption.
